

Carpark Occupancy Sensor

Maximise parking spaces for easier management

Integrated with the carpark management system, the sensor accurately detects empty spaces which enables drivers to reserve in advance. Drivers can therefore plan their journeys better and save time otherwise wasted looking for available spaces. Reduce parking queues, pollutant emission and save energy.

Application

Carpark

More efficient planning for drivers

Increase turnover of parking spaces

Save manpower

Save energy and improve air quality

